Introduction

Student teaching is the culminating experience of the formal teacher preparation program. During the professional semester, teacher candidates are provided the opportunity to fully integrate the knowledge, skills and dispositions they have acquired and practiced during their years of preparation.

Student teaching, however, is much more than a culmination; it is also an initiation. This comprehensive experience provides the teacher candidate with an induction into the teaching role and marks the beginning of the ongoing development of a professional educator. In a sense, the teacher candidate enters the professional semester as a student and exits as a teacher.

STATEMENT OF PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The College of Saint Rose School of Education is committed to providing quality and distinctive educational programs. Our philosophy evolves from our belief in the profound influence and possibilities of education to guide and promote the intellectual and human development of people in a diverse society.

The educational dynamic of our teaching and learning environments forges the insight, meaning, skills, and strategies necessary to improve the quality of individual and collective life. Ethics, freedom of inquiry and expression, and the exchange of ideas inform our practice. Imperative to our educational endeavors are morality, integrity, and character. Critical analysis and the development of theoretical frameworks, leading to effective practices, characterize the scholarship and enlightenment to which we aspire. Instructional technologies, research, and policy formulation inform our teaching and learning, while partnerships in the field offer extensive experiences and provide sources for evaluating our effectiveness.

Valuing the knowledge and multicultural experiences of students in the educational process, our faculty strives to be responsive to their needs and interests and challenges them to broaden their awareness and sensitivity to diverse backgrounds thereby becoming reflective, responsive, self-empowered advocates for their learners and communities. Leadership is at the heart of our efforts to encourage and create new initiatives through which our faculty and our students become mutually responsible agents of change. To ensure the actualization of our philosophy, we model its standards and values in our daily practices and relationships. This philosophy generates educational experiences that are formative and indelible.

ETHICS AND PROFESSIONALISM

While it is not the intent of the School of Education at The College of Saint Rose to endorse a specific national organization or the Code of Ethics of a specific organization, it is critical for our students to be aware of ethical principles as they relate to the teaching profession. The “Code of Ethics of the Education Profession” adopted by the National Education Association in 1975 (<http://www.nea.org/aboutnea/code.html>) and the “Code of Ethics for Educators” articulated by the New York State Department of Education (<http://www.highered.nysed.gov/tcert/resteachers/codeofethics.htm>) are examples of widely recognized and accepted professional standards. These standards, along with the philosophy and purpose of The College of Saint Rose School of Education, inform the professional qualities expected of a teacher candidate at The College of Saint Rose. Specifically, teacher candidates must evidence professionalism as follows:

Communication Skills

Teacher candidates, their supervisors, and cooperating teachers should discuss the professional qualities required of the field and demonstrated by the teacher candidate. At various points in the student teaching experience, it may be necessary to conduct a formal evaluation of these professional qualities. In such cases, a Professional Qualities Assessment (PQA) Report will be completed in order to document, discuss, and remedy concerns about professionalism.

Liability Protection for Teacher Candidates

Education Law, Title 4, Teachers and Pupils, Article 61, Section 3023

“...it shall be the duty of each board of education...to save harmless and protect all teachers, practice or cadet teachers...from financial loss arising out of any claim, demand, suit or judgment by reason of alleged negligence or other act resulting in accidental bodily injury... or damage to the property...provided such teacher, practice or cadet teacher,...was acting in the discharge of his duties...”

New York State Education Law requires school districts to insure student teachers against financial loss arising out of any claim or lawsuit for alleged negligence resulting in accidental personal injury to any person or property damage while the student teacher at the time of the accident or injury was acting in the discharge of his/her student teaching duties. A student teacher who is involved in any accident or incident where there is personal injury or property damage while they are student teaching should immediately inform his/her cooperating teacher and notify the College Supervisor and Coordinator of Field Supervision as soon as possible. A student teacher who is served with legal papers involving any accident or injury that occurred in the course of their student teaching placement must immediately forward a copy of such papers to the Coordinator of Field Supervision and to the school administrator where the student teaching took place.

OVERVIEW OF POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR STUDENT TEACHING

PURPOSES OF STUDENT TEACHING

The College of Saint Rose and the New York State Education Department require teacher education candidates to complete a student teaching experience in a public or private school to obtain both their college degree and New York State teacher certification. This experience is designed to utilize the teacher candidate's knowledge, information, skills and abilities, based upon the content knowledge and pedagogical foundations developed during the degree program. It is an opportunity to apply this knowledge in a practical setting, providing teacher candidates with an experience that will fully prepare them for the responsibilities of becoming an effective educator.

Seminars and Other Requirements

Teacher candidates must attend weekly seminars during the entire semester. The purpose of this seminar is to support the student teaching experience and the development of teaching skills. These requirements should be discussed among the cooperating teacher, teacher candidate, and the college supervisor during the initial meeting. The major requirement is the development of a unit plan of instruction and a teacher work sample. Other program specific assignments may be required.

Expectations of Host School, Calendar, and Length of School day

The cooperating teacher and school principal should expect the teacher candidate to adhere to the policies, regulations, and daily schedule of the school, arriving and leaving at the times required by the teachers in the school. In addition, the teacher candidate is expected to:

- Attend and participate in those conferences, meetings, and school programs that are expected of the regular classroom teacher and provided they are permitted and invited.
- Schedule appointments and employment interviews outside of student teaching hours. If this is not possible, the cooperating teacher and college supervisor should be consulted in advance.

The teacher candidate is also expected to follow the school calendar, not the college calendar, with regard to vacation and holiday dates. In other words, the teacher candidate understands that s/he will follow the same schedule and guidelines that the cooperating teacher is expected to follow.

Attendance

Teacher-candidates enter student teaching prepared to be present each day of this vital and meaningful capstone experience. However, on occasion, and usually resulting from extenuating circumstances (illness, hospitalization, immediate family bereavement, or religious observance) the teacher candidate may be absent from the classroom. The teacher-candidate must contact the cooperating teacher and college supervisor directly regarding any absence from school. If the cooperating teacher and/or college supervisor feel that multiple absences have interfered with the teacher candidate's progress, the cooperating teacher and college supervisor will discuss and coordinate solutions. Any absence(s) may result in the modification to the beginning or ending dates for the first or second placement. Decisions relative to absences will be made at the discretion of the cooperating teacher and college supervisor.

Any exceptions to this policy must be approved by the program Coordinator of Supervision in consultation with the college supervisor and the cooperating teacher.

Lesson plans for which the teacher candidate is responsible are to be forwarded in a timely manner to the cooperating teacher.

Family Responsibilities

Child care or family responsibilities should not affect the teacher candidate's arrival or departure time or their responsibilities during the day.

Teacher Candidates Acting as Substitute Teachers

The model of teacher preparation in which all parties are involved acknowledges that this is an apprenticeship and that a teacher candidate will always be under the supervision of a cooperating teacher. Due to these expectations, the teacher candidate may not act as a paid or unpaid substitute teacher during his/her student teaching placement.

Contractually, the teacher candidate must be supervised by a person (i.e. the cooperating teacher) who is employed by the district and whose duties include supervision. A teacher candidate is not a paid contractual employee, and therefore not eligible to be hired while on a student teaching assignment. However, in an emergency, a teacher candidate may provide coverage in his/her own classroom, provided the college supervisor and the teacher candidate are informed and in agreement with this emergency arrangement.

Cooperating Teacher Presence in the Classroom

Traditionally, teacher candidates have been left on their own intermittently as an important step in their growth as classroom managers, especially during solo week. Although this has been common practice throughout schools in the past, we assume that this student teaching practice is carefully reviewed by school administrators and cooperating teachers on a regular basis.

- Education Law, Title 4, Teachers and Pupils, Article 61, Section 3001

The provisions of this subdivision shall not prohibit a certified teacher from permitting a practice or cadet teacher enrolled in an approved teacher education program from teaching a class without the presence of the certified teacher in the classroom provided the classroom certified teacher is available at all times and retains supervision of the practice or cadet teacher.

During solo week the teacher candidate should assume the majority of teaching responsibilities in the classroom. However, this does not necessarily mean that the cooperating teacher is required to be out of the classroom. In fact the cooperating teacher can become an anonymous observer in the classroom, providing the teacher candidate with valuable feedback regarding instruction and classroom management performance.

Teacher Candidate as Mandated Reporter

Teacher candidates are required to report any information pertaining to suspected child abuse or neglect. Should a teacher candidate become aware of information in this regard, s(he) is expected to consult with his/her cooperating teacher immediately. The cooperating teacher should provide the teacher candidate with the name of the individual designated by the school to report matters of abuse or neglect, and should assist the teacher candidate in the event a report is filed.

Performance Concerns

The cooperating teacher is in a unique position to evaluate the progress of a teacher candidate's performance. The college supervisor will provide evaluation forms for the cooperating teacher. However, if a cooperating teacher has concerns about a teacher candidate's performance, the cooperating teacher should contact the college supervisor immediately. It is important to address these concerns as soon as possible to allow an opportunity for the teacher candidate to discuss possible solutions with the cooperating teacher and the supervisor.

Professionalism

In addition to demonstrating good moral character and ethical behavior, teacher candidates are expected to conduct themselves as professionals in every respect. Teacher candidates are invited guests in a school and classroom of a practicing teacher whose first priority is to his/her pupils. The teacher candidate must learn to operate within this established framework. The teacher candidate is expected to follow the Code of Ethics and be a professional member of the teaching community. Teacher professionalism is evidenced in the following ways:

Attitude

- Go into student teaching with a positive attitude and a determination to do one's best.
- Show enthusiasm and make a contribution to the teaching profession.

Appearance

- Look the part of a professional. The decision to become a professional educator carries with it the responsibility to present oneself professionally in both habits and appearance.

Confidentiality

- The requirements of the Buckley Amendment (on the Privacy Rights of Parents and Students) make it clear that any information that relates to pupils with whom teacher candidates are working is confidential. Teacher candidates must under no circumstances discuss the educational programs or records of their pupils with individuals other than those who are directly or indirectly involved in the educational programming of those students. The cooperating teacher must be consulted in all matters relating to the sharing of student information.

Discretion

- Discretion is paramount. Be professional at all times – on-site, in discussions with cooperating teacher, supervisor, during seminar, etc.

Professional Distance

- Most schools have a clear policy addressing educationally valuable use of the Internet and student access. These policies focus on safety and responsible use. Make sure to ask the cooperating teacher or principal about their school's policy.
- Increasingly, schools are rewriting their “employee codes of conduct” to include the use of social networking sites by teachers. You are encouraged to always maintain a professional distance with regard to these public sites and text messaging relative to the students you are working with. Again, ask the cooperating teacher or principal if such a policy exists in the host school. Even if a policy does not exist, avoid the appearance of impropriety by not communicating with students through text messaging or social networking sites.

School Photo or Video Policy

- Most school boards have a policy in this regard. Make sure to check with the cooperating teacher and/or school principal beforehand; permission may be required. There are edTPA permission forms for parents/guardians that you must distribute and collect in addition to permission for taking photographs for other purposes; namely portfolio development.

Cell Phone Use

- Consult with the cooperating teacher or principal about existing faculty policy related to cell phone use. Professionalism dictates that you don't use your cell phone for conversation or for ‘texting’ during the instructional portion of the school day. Unless there are extenuating circumstances, your cell phone should be in vibrate mode or not turned on at all. Please inform your cooperating teacher if you absolutely have to have the cell phone activated because of a possible emergency. Take advantage of any non-instructional time to become increasingly knowledgeable about your students, curriculum, instruction, or special services available to children in the building.

Overview of Participant Responsibilities

The following statements briefly summarize the primary responsibilities of the teacher candidate, cooperating teacher, college supervisor, Coordinator of Field Supervision and the building principal.

Rating Scale Guidelines for Formal Observation

Lesson observation/assessment is a means of rating key teaching competencies and the performance indicators associated with that competency, e.g., content, instructional planning, etc. Further clarification may be found in the comment section, the goals for subsequent observations, or in the discussion between student teacher and cooperating teacher/college supervisor following the lesson observation. The key teaching competencies have been aligned with the New York State Teaching Standards (2012).

| Exceeds Expectations (E) , suggests that the observer feels that the performance indicator has been met, during this lesson observation, to a level that exceeds what can typically be expected of a beginning teacher; level of performance could serve as a “model” for all student teachers. |
| Meets Expectations (M) , indicates that the observer feels the indicator has been executed well; a level expected of a student teacher at this point in his/her preparation and classroom experience. |
| Learning (L) , suggests that the observer feels the student teacher is working toward successful attainment of the performance indicator; the student teacher accepts assistance and continued support. |
| Needs to Learn (NL) , indicates the observer feels the student teacher must address this indicator with continued effort in order to meet the intent of the indicator; student teacher requires a great deal of assistance and support. |
| Not Observed (NO) : The performance indicator listed under the teaching competency has not been observed during this lesson. |

Certainly these performance indicator ratings can change and be compared from one observation to the next. Where the observer indicates that the student teacher is learning or needs to learn, observation ratings can chronicle growth and development.

ECE/Childhood Ed: Revised Fall 2016

Professional Qualities Assessment Report

Use only if teacher candidate's performance is less than acceptable or marginal.

Students at The College of Saint Rose who are candidates to become professional educators must demonstrate high standards in communication skills, in the ability to take responsibility and accept personal accountability, and in ethical thought and practice. Each of these areas of competence is addressed in the Lally School of Education's Conceptual Framework. As students progress toward completion of their professional education programs, they must demonstrate evidence to professors through course work, field and clinical experiences, and interpersonal interactions that they are developing professionally according to the descriptors noted below in each of the three professional qualities categories. Faculty consider these professional qualities to be as important as academic performance since they are so clearly related to one's success as a professional. Development of acceptable levels of performance in each of the performance categories below is an expectation of all students prior to completion of professional education programs.

The department faculty will rate students on a 3-point scale in each of the three categories. The scale is as follows:

- 1: Behavior is unacceptable. Remediation plan is required. These behaviors are negatively impacting the students' performance in classes and/or in the field.
- 2: Behavior is often appropriate for the profession. Improvement in some areas is needed. These difficulties may begin to impact the students' performance in classes and/or the field.
- 3: Behavior is appropriate for the profession.

Faculty continually review students' professionalism, and students may be identified as not meeting professional expectations at any time in their program. In addition, each department has established transition points in their programs at which time the faculty will review students and report to the Dean the performance in these areas. A student who is rated either 1 or 2 in any category at a scheduled transition point review or at any time during their program will be notified by a faculty member (designated by the department). If the student scores a 1, at least two faculty members will meet together with the student to provide feedback and help the student to develop a plan to address the performance issues. The plan will be filed in the School of Education office and in the student's file in the Field Placement and Advisement office, and a copy will be provided to their advisor. Faculty will continue to monitor the student whose professional qualities performance is limited and to provide feedback, make suggestions about career options, and ultimately assess the student's ability to continue in the current program or any program within the School of Education. Thus, once a student has been identified as having performance issues, the professional qualities assessment plan will apply continuously or be adapted to the student's performance requirements within the School of Education, regardless of the program within which the student's performance initially became an issue.

If a student considers the assessment to be inaccurate, s/he may ask for a review of the assessment by the Chair of the department in which the student is enrolled. If the Chair has referred the student for review, then the student may request a review from the Dean.

A New York State Certification Requirement for Initial Certification for Graduates May 2014 and Thereafter

The edTPA is a national, subject specific portfolio-based assessment of teaching performance that is completed by student teachers to demonstrate their readiness for teaching. It was developed utilizing best practices in teacher evaluation and is based on research, theory, and strategies related to teaching and learning. The student teacher will be asked to provide artifacts documenting teaching and learning during a specific learning segment. Artifacts will include commentaries, reflections, video clips and samples of student work. The edTPA will include the following three main components:

- Task 1: Planning for instruction and assessment
- Task 2: Instructing and engaging students in learning
- Task 3: Assessing student learning

The edTPA is subject-specific, so each content area has its own handbook. Support for student teachers will come from seminar instructors, cooperating teachers, and college supervisors.

Allowable Strategies for Assistance

- Providing and discussing samples of previously completed edTPA assessments that demonstrate competent teaching practice
- Distribution of edTPA support documents
- Explicitly pointing out relationships between learning and assessment tasks during coursework
- Technical and logistical support for videotaping and uploading documents into electronic platforms (Chalk & Wire)
- Asking probing or clarifying questions that encourage candidates to deepen their analysis of and reflection on the artifacts, commentary prompts, and/or their responses

Unacceptable Forms of Support for Constructing the edTPA

- Making choices of curriculum materials or instructional strategies for the candidate
- Providing one's own analysis of the candidate's students or artifacts or offering alternative responses to commentary prompts
- Suggesting specific changes to be made in the development of the edTPA
- Providing intensive coaching for candidates perceived to be weak that is aimed at helping them pass the edTPA rather than at improving their teaching competence
- Editing the edTPA

Lesson Plan and Video Requirements

Each student teacher will construct their edTPA based on a learning segment (3-5 lessons). During the teaching of that learning segment, the student teacher will video tape lessons to submit as evidence of teaching competence and student learning. You will submit approximately 20 minutes of video tape. – one or two clips. Consult handbook for specific requirements.

Communication to Parents

- Parental permission will be required before videotaping can take place.
- Handbook contains a suggested format for the permission form and this will have to be approved by the cooperating teacher and/or school principal before it goes home with the students.
- This will be a topic for discussion during seminar.

LESSON PLANNING & PREPARATION DURING STUDENT TEACHING SEMESTER

You must have a written lesson plan for each lesson during student teaching. Comprehensive planning is essential for effective teaching in all subject areas and grade levels. Planning is critical to ensure student learning. The planning process helps organize the curriculum and address the complex variables that affect instructional decisions.

Lesson Plan for First Supervisory Observation – The attached format contains the “core components” of the lesson plan. Discuss with your supervisor any additional required components specific to this placement or class.

Subsequent Supervisory Observations – College Supervisor will specify format to be used.
Note: Supervisor may ask you to email the lesson plan prior to a supervisory visit.

Planning Lessons for the Cooperating Teacher – Use the same format that you use for your supervisor. As you take on more teaching responsibility, the supervisor and/or cooperating teacher may suggest using a different format; ‘you won’t plan less, you’ll just write less’. Ask your cooperating teacher how far in advance s/he would like your written plan. Also, ask if the cooperating teacher would like your plans to be submitted in ‘hard-copy’ or electronically.

Short-range planning – Your next lesson or lessons. When would the co-operating teacher like to review the written plan(s)?

Long-range planning – A unit or instructional plan is typically considered long-range, but so too is next week or anything after tomorrow’s lesson. Don’t put it off!

Solo Week Plans – Use the forms provided in your student teaching packet; one for each day of the solo experience. Submit copies to both cooperating teacher and supervisor.

Preparation

Make sure you have the equipment, supplies, materials and any student copying ready in advance of any lesson.
